A Christmas Carol.

The frost gleams white on the house-tops high,
And the clouds—they look like snow;
And the plumber man goes briskly by—
Blow, little tin horns—blow.

And I view my cash with a secret sigh,
And I say to my soul: "go slow!"
But the children come and I can't look grum—
Blow, little tin horns—blow!

So, I'm quite resigned to the rocket's noise,
And the Roman candle show;
It's hands all around with the girls and boys—
Blow, little tin horns—blow!

—Frank L. Stanton in Atlanta Constitution.

Absolutely Free.

You will not be asked to subscribe or contribute one cent to the band at their concert Friday night. It has been said by some, "That you boys want to get a crowd in the court house to your concert and then take up a collection." But positively nothing of the kind will be done. We advertise a free entertainment and it is to be that, and nothing else. So don't come expecting to have to put anything in the hat, for if you do you will be disappointed. But come expecting to hear some good music and have a good time. But have tickets before you arrive for if you have not got one you will not be admitted.

Very respectfully,
J. G. Fowler, Manager.

Why not give something useful along with the fancy goods and toys? Here's a condensed list to select from:

Welcome Visitors.

Last night our home was invaded by members of Washington street church, who brought with them packages of various shapes and sizes, containing a great variety of good things. Surely it was never any pastor's good pleasure to serve a more appreciative people. They are constantly bringing us under renewed obligations by their many acts of kindness. We wish for them a happy Christmas, and pray that heaven's richest blessings may rest upon them during the coming year. Livington Johnson.

Shot a Negro Preacher.

A negro named John Phillips shot a colored preacher named Williams, in Sidestown, west of Salem, about one o'clock today. The wound is not though to be fatal. NATIONAL MILITARY PARK

Senator Pritchard Will Take Up the Matter

WHEN CONGRESS MEETS AGAIN.

The Proposition is to Locate the Park in Western North Carolina—Other Washington News.

Special to the TELEGRAM.

Washington, Dec. 23—Upon the reassembling of congress, Senator Pritchard, of North Carolina, will take up the matter of the establishment of a national military park in western North Carolina. This project has been before the people of the country for some time, and has caused much interest in the southern states. The section in which it is proposed to establish the national park is one surrounded by memories of the civil war, and is noted for its rugged picturesqueness.

The North Carolina senator's interest has been enlisted in the project, and although he has not given the details of the matter much consideration as yet, he will when the senate reconvenes after the Christmas recess, introduce a bill which will get the plan for the national park before congress for its consideration. The proposed bill which will be introduced by Senator Pritchard, will not provide for the establishment of the park, it is understood, but will merely be a joint resolution, proposing the appointment of a commission to visit the vicinity, inquire into the feasibility of the project, and report to congress at some later day in the session. Senator Pritchard believes that the commission to visit Western North Carolina should be composed of senators; representatives, military authorities and private citizens, which would give congress the benefit of the opinion of experts in all classes. The measure will be introduced by the senator soon after the reassembling of congress, and it is hoped that it will be reported to the senate and acted upon without much delay. The North Carolina delegation will work for the project in the house, and hope to get it through congress in some shape during the present session.

The entire N. C. delegation in congress, with one exception, will spend the Christmas holidays in the state. The exception is Mr. Crawford, who will spend the holidays here with his wife and family.

The North Carolina members of the house, with one or two exceptions possibly will all be candidates for renomination by their respective parties next summer. The democratic members of the delegation are all strong men, and had much experience in state affairs. Thus far the session of Congress has not been such as to enable a member to distinguish himself much in matters of legislation, as the policy of the majority has been to do nothing It is safe to say, however, that the North Carolina delegation, as a rule, we found to be composed of members who have the interests of the state at heart.

It is thought that the North Carolina election contests in the house of representatives may not be taken up for some time. The cases will, it is said, be delayed until after the Virginia cases are disposed of. About the first election contest to be heard in the house will be that of General Walker against Congressman Rhea, of the 9th Virginia district.

The North Carolina contests, when they do come before the house, according to present indications, will give rise to much party feeling, and a bitter partizan debate may be anticipated, in which the alleged North Carolina election practices on the part of the democracy of the state will be rehashed. The republicans of North Carolina seem generally convinced that the majority in the house will seat their candidates.

The North Carolina Association, of this city, will on January 12th, give a ball for the purpose of raising funds for the proposed Robert E. Lee monument. The North Carolina Association has taken the matter up out of compliment to Mrs Vance, widow of the late Senator Vance, who is president of the Lee Monument Association.

THIS WEEK'S SLUMP.

Prices of Stocks Suffered Severely in Wall Street.

New York, Dec. 23—Dun's Weekly Review of Trade today says:

The worst day in Wall street for years was in part the legitimate result of the best year in business ever known. The question was one of monetary supply. When the country found ample use of its capital in regular trade and productive industry, a contraction of loans became necessary, which would only have been more painful if the volume of stocks carried had been larger. Reckoning from the highest general average last spring, industrial stocks had fallen at the close Monday 23.27 per cent, street railroads 38.90 per cent, and other railroad and telegraph stocks only 6 70 per cent. The extreme pressure was quickly relieved by a syndicate of banks, the treasury aiding much, and prices soon recovered a part of their loss, only to decline again later.

Fear that a British defeat in Africa might cause gold exports brought on Monday the slaughter of good and bad stocks together, though after the gold movement had begun all stocks rose. The close for the week averaged $4 95 per share lower for railroads, and $7.32 per share for industrials.

Foreign trade reports leave no excuse for alarm as to international exchanges. Europe can borrow part of what it owes by paying a premium, but this country has of gold more than enough, and only needs to reduce its speculative loans In two weeks of December exports from New York have been 30 per cent larger than last year, while imports were 27.6 per cent larger.

The business of the country close to the holidays is necessarily smaller than it has been, and yet larger than at the same date in any other year. There is not even a suspicion of unsoundness in any considerable branch of industry or trade.

Cotton suffered in speculation for a day, with stocks, but the great decrease in receipts from farms—since September over 1,500,000 bales—gives strong support to prices. The demand for goods is quiet, though prices hold steady.

Wool sales have dropped sharply with the momentary pressure, but prices do not change. Leather has been steady for hemlock and other sole, but in satin-grain and kid the demand has fallen off suddenly. Shipments of boots and shoes amounted to 400,000 cases, or 9 per cent more than last year to date.

High prices for iron are wonderfully sustained. Prices of finished products change little.

Wheat was lost both in foreign demand and in prices, in spite of still greater loss in western receipts. Exports for the week were only 3,306 286 bushels, against 7,340,170 last year. Atlantic reports, flour included, have been in three weeks only 6,864,433 bushels, against 15,415,368 bushels last year. The price closed ¼ cent lower.

Failures for the week have been 220 in the United States, against 258 last year, and 26 in Canada, against 31 last year.

AS BRADSTREET'S SEES IT.

Bradstreet's today says:

Holiday trade activity, of course, reaches its highest development during the week now drawing to a close. The weather conditions have not altogether favored retail distribution of winter goods, the result being less activity in purely retail lines than had been looked for, though comparisons with one year ago are generally favorable.

Wholesale trade at this season usually shows a quieting tendency, but it is questionable whether this tendency is as large this year as in former periods.

On account of the mild weather, Thacker & Brockmann have too many high cut hunting shoes on hand and will sell them at $3 00, either tan or black, all sizes.

A SURE CURE FOR CROUP.

Twenty-five Years' Constant Use Without a Failure.

The first indication of croup is hoarseness, and in a child subject to that disease it may be taken as a sure sign of the approach of an attack. Following this hoarseness is a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears it will prevent the attack It is used in many thousands of homes in this broad land and never disappoints the anxious mothers We have yet to learn of a single instance in which it has not proved effectual No other preparation can show such a record—twenty-five years' constant use without a failure. CHRISTMAS-TIDE.

In boyhood's days Christmas to us was a festive occasion, one to be looked forward to with restless longing. When thinking of a bright, cold, starlit night, the ground covered with snow, a cheerful log fire, the warm hearthstone, well-filled stockings and visions of a cheery old gray whiskered man in furs and snow-flecked trappings, with fleet-footed reindeer and sleigh, it seemed we could not wait. The days were weeks, the weeks months, and the months were years to us then. It is different now, but there are others going through the same experiences we went through then.

Let us make glad their hearts and in addition to the giving of earthly gifts let them know the reason why Christmas is a festive day and why it has been so celebrated in Christian lands ever since the voices of angels rang out in songs of jubilant praises over Judean plains nineteen hundred years ago. "Glory to God in the highest, peace on earth, good will to men" was the refrain, sung in honor of the birth of the Redeemer—the first Christmas gift to a sinful world.

Let us observe the day in a proper manner, keeping in mind the origin of the day we celebrate.

EVANGELIST MOODY.

The death of D. L. Moody, the world renowned evangelist, was told in a few brief words in our press dispatches yesterday. The announcement will cause thousands of hearts to mourn. With his life and character the public are as familiar, perhaps, as with any man's of the present age. He has wrought a great work, lived a grand life, caught up the heart strings of men and women and tied them on to God, and has gone to his reward.

Of the character and work of Mr. Moody, the Charlotte Observer this morning says:

It is impossible to estimate justly in a few words the character and work of this man. He was no genius, unless genius be defined as an immense capacity for work. He was no orator, unless oratory is making men hear and feel and act. He was no scholar, if we define scholarship in the ordinary way. Yet how far reaching and manifold his work! When all that men have seen and known of it is gathered up, the half will not have been told. The judgment seat of Christ alone will reveal it in its magnitude.

Many have asked, "What was the secret of his power?" We believe it to have been:

1. His whole-hearted devotion to the cause of Christ.

2. His deep-seated, unswerving faith in and loyalty to the Word of God.

3. His absorbing love for the souls of his fellow-men.

Thousands of men whose natural ability would equal Mr. Moody's have died unknown and left nothing to show for having lived. But his life, thoroughly yielded up to God, has touched and moved the world.

A CHRISTMAS SERMON.

The Anniversary of the "Babe in the Manger."

"And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child."—Luke 2:17. The pronoun "they" refers to the shepherds who were keeping watch, in the field over their flock by night; and to whom the angel of the Lord said: "Fear not; for behold I bring you tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people." It was the birthday of the Savior—the long expected Jesus. "For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, which is Christ the Lord." "And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in the manger." And from that day, for almost 1900 years, the talk of the world, amounting to anything good, has grown out of the event of which the present time is the anniversary. So today we would make known again the "saying concerning this Child"—the Savior of man.

IT IS A TIME FOR JOY.

"Joy to the world the Lord has come." The birth of the Babe in the manger marks an epoch in the word's history, and is the pivot on which everything that is good turns. Since last Christmas there has been many changes. Hopes have been blasted; the lights have burned low; death has claimed his victims; and the tears of bitterness and love have burned many cheeks, but Christ is still with us, and bids us be joyful, and to rejoice in Him. But for the presence, and the comfort growing out of His life and teachings we might well hang our harps on the willows, sit down in sack cloth and ashes and refuse to sing. But, the saying, concerning the child Jesus, now the Savior of the world, still rings in our ears, and as we go marching on, and especially, at Christmas, we will tune up and say: "Let those who refuse to sing who never knew their Lord." They know Him, therefore, despite the affliction, and the funerals of the year past, we may be a joyful people. Rejoice in the Lord alway, and again, I say, rejoice. There is cause for joy. Prosperity, health, happiness, the possession of friends and other manifold blessings; but the greatest of all reasons for rejoicing is, "Unto us a Savior is born." One who is a friend above all friends. He keeps and comforts in the darkest hour, and tells us, "Let my joy remain in you." Let all with joy honor the day that is named for Christ.

IT IS A TIME FOR GIFTS.

The wise men brought these and laid at the feet of the blessed redeemer. But don't forget, that when you give to others, at this time, or any time, you give to Him. Remember the poor for the sake of the Savior; and, remember your own in His name also. My little girl has a gift for me and I have one for her. And she said we must not forget mother. No, indeed, and today, in memory of that sweet life, on her grave we will place as a Christmas gift, a wreath of immortals, because her influence on us will be immortal. And we will not forget Tom, the crippled boy, who looks after Toby, the pony; nor Martha, the colored girl, who washes the dishes and brings in the wood and loves Louise. Yes, we will do all in our power to assist in making others happy, and, we will be happy ourselves in doing this, although, it will of course be the saddest Christmas to us that has ever come. Ella will not be here to help us with the turkey and talk to me, but we will give some one her part; and in doing this we will have comfort. "Happy are ye if ye do these things." So roll on old world! With all your vicissitudes and hardships we will by the help of God have a good Christmas. You can't cheat us out of this.

IT IS A TIME FOR CHARITY.

We speak not now as to the giving of gifts but of extending charity to all mankind. I believe it was Longfellow or some other man who spoke like this: "The little I know of the world and the history of mankind teaches me to look upon the faults of others with sorrow—not in anger." It is well for us to be thankful that we may be above sinking ourselves into the bitterness of prejudice and ill-will to our fellow man. Let us not however be too sehere, remembering that when the Babe came, the angelic host chanted "Peace on earth, good will to men." Leave the wrong doer in the hands of God. Forgive your enemies, and help the man up the hill instead of pushing him down. This will be charity and help you to have a pleasant Christmas. I heard a man say a few days ago, that he regretted the calamity which had fallen on the State Normal, but was not a bit sorry for Dr. McIver. My God! how could a christian thus speak? Out of the heart the mouth speaks. Do his words indicate that he was sorry? I feel today, as I have for days and days, that no man deserved more sympathy and prayers of the christians than Dr. McIver. Let us be charitable. Christmas teaches that doctrine. Charity suffereth long and is kind. Christianity, that is not touched, at this time, by the distress of others, to the extent, that it cannot be charitable, ought never to contribute a cent for foreign missions. For God's sake don't disturb the heathen in his present mode of living if we intend to make him full of vengeance and intolerance and bitter prejudice.

TIME TO ACCEPT CHRIST.

Take, my reader, if you have never done so, on this day, the blessed into your heart and life, and by so doing, receive without money or price, the most valuable of all Christmas gifts. It is a special pleasure to my own broken heart to know, that it was on this day, that he led me in the banquet ball under the banner of love. A friend sceptical in his views, has asked, that I, if conscious in the hour of death, leave a special message to him. I hope for longer time, but, I leave the message now: Jesus is my Savior, and my only happiness for time or eternity. May that friend take the gift of salvation through Christ today.

WINE OF CARDUI

THE LINK THAT BINDS.

JACKSON, TENN., Nov. 22.

I was subject to miscarriage for three years, and suffered constantly with backache. I wrote to you for advice, and after using three bottles of Wine of Cardui, according to your directions, I am strong and well, and the mother of a fine girl baby.

Mrs. E. N. JOWERS.

Mother's Wine of Cardui

There is no use talking—a baby in the house is the link that binds husband and wife together. Nothing is sadder than fruitless wedlock. The prattling and cooing of the little ones offset a thousand times the occasional worries and trials of life. When a wife is barren, there is a derangement somewhere in the genital organs, caused by one or more of those common disorders known as "female troubles". Wine of Cardui is the remedy. It puts the organs of generation in a strong and healthy condition, fitting the wife for the sacred duty of reproducing her kind. During the period of gestation the entire system of the expectant mother is built up to withstand the ordeal of labor, and when the little one makes its advent it is lusty and strong, well-fitted to grow to maturity in perfect health. The mother, too, passes through the trial with little pain and no dread. Wine of Cardui is truly a wonderful medicine for women.

The musical conductor's great,
A wonder, in his prime,
For time and tide refuse to wait,
And yet he can beat time.

"So you've set up a hired girl" said farmer Muchland to his son. "Your mother never had a hired girl. She worked early and late, and raised a family. Hired girl indeed! Look at your mother, sir."

"It's just looking at mother" said the son "made me resolve that my children's mother should never look like her, worn out in her prime."

In the partnership of marriage women give twice as much as men. They give equal work, and they give themselves, their very life. Children come. No chance for rest, work must go on. Inflammation, ulceration, debilitating drains and female weakness, undermine the health and shock the nervous system. In a few years the woman is worn out.

Women who have used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription say that they can do their own work and keep their strength and good looks. It cures inflammation, ulceration, female weakness and unhealthy drains.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free of charge.

"About two years ago my health became very poor from female weakness and troubles peculiar to my sex; in fact I was so weak and feeble that I was able to do but little work," writes Mrs. Josie M. Guess, of Baileyton, Cullman Co., Ala. "I decided to buy me a bottle or two of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and give it a trial. I took two bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' and one vial of the 'Pellets,' and these proved to be all I needed. I felt stout and well after taking Dr. Pierce's medicine and have been doing my work with more satisfaction than I had ever felt before."

is to see to it that her children begin early in life to shampoo their heads regularly once a week. In each instance, after the hair is thoroughly dry, some mild, health-giving tonic should be applied to the scalp to aid nature in creating the best possible growth of uniformly colored, lustrous, healthy hair—the most important feature in the make-up of beautiful women and handsome men. For more than fifteen years, the
